Proposal for Signs – All Phase Construction 10/21/2013

The total for each one is $18,500. This includes concrete footings and walls, stone to match existing, peeled logs, all materials and labor to install. I am assuming you just want the peeled logs sealed. It won't cost anymore to have a stain sealer applied if you want. The expenses break down like this:

$6,900 concrete
$5,700 masonry
$2,500 logs
$600 hardware for logs
$1,500 labor for installing logs and hardware
$600 for excavation
$700 profit
Total $18,500

Lead time on the logs is 3-4 weeks and we would need to get the stone ordered as well. We only bid to put the dirt back and transplant some of the bushes. It looks like there is only dirt there now so if they want some kind of mulch let me know and I can get some prices.

Thanks,

Dave
